Forgive the assumption that you can look into your cloud. A recent study found that the average enterprise uses over 1000 cloud services, roughly 6x-7x the amount the average IT team estimates. Your cloud provider wants you to use as much cloud as possible, so out-of-the-box reporting tools are often only informational. You need someone who can look into your cloud consumption and take action to optimize your environment.

If the process of optimizing seems hard, turn to a partner with deep optimization experience to provide an objective assessment. Introducing pureIntegration's LeanCloud. Gain granular visibility into your cloud consumption and a partner with deep expertise in balancing performance and cost.
